Project Description

We have chosen tourism as the theme for our project. Our group has decided to create a mock organization for this specific task. Our organization name is Healiday which is a nonprofit organization with the objective to promote and guide people who are looking for underrated but interesting places in Malaysia for a holiday or healing time whether in a city or suburb. We also offer users a list of tour guides who they are able to get in touch with.Our motto is "Travel is my therapy". In accordance with Sustainable Development Goal, goal 14 (Life Under Water) and goal 15 (Life On Land), we have chosen to establish a website where people can find their way to release their stress and problems by traveling to see the beauty of the land and underwater.

There are five main pages on our website which include home, about us, city, suburb, and contact us. Poppins, Open Sans, Playfair Display, Sans Serif are the four main fonts that we have selected. This website's overall design is simple but stylish and direct to the point to make it user-friendly. The components are colorized using colors like yellow, lime green and brown to add an additional stylish look to the white background. These colors have been proved to be more attractive for travel theme websites.

For the flow of our organization, we also have a set of operations in the management of our website. In the website, we put a navigation header in each page so that the users can browse our website and find something that may be related to their vacation plans. Our website highlights and exposes some underappreciated destinations in Malaysia that are fascinating and worthwhile to visit. All locations whether in the city or the village are included in the attractions that we promote. We also offer users a list of tour guides who they are able to get in touch with. If the users require a tour guide for their holiday, they can find one from the choices on the home page. Then, we will manage and provide them on how to get in touch with their tour guides.

Other than that, our website also displays visualization of the places that we promote. It will attract more people to visit those places. Similarly, our goal is to promote more interesting and beautiful locations in Malaysia. We also can encourage the users to explore more places and nature in the world either domestically or abroad. It will also open their eyes to the importance of taking care of these places. Moreover, it will assist them in coping with their holidays in a prepared manner. It will also help them have an organized holiday. Consequently, they could save their time and can enjoy their vacation to the fullest.
